DESCRIPTION

VILLA DEL PARCO – LA SPEZIA – LIGURIAN COAST

7 BEDROOMS (5 DOUBLE, 2 SINGLE) – POOL

Liguria is one of Italy's smallest regions, a mountainous sliver of moon on Italy's northern coast known as the Italian Riviera. La Spezia is a main train center and from La Spezia's port ferries run in summer to Portovenere, Lerici, and the Cinque Terre. La Spezia has pedestrian only shopping streets, a castle, and several museums. In 2006, La Spezia came in third on the list of Italy's most livable cities. This town could be the best place to discovery the region and also to reach many place in the neighbouring Tuscany (Versilia, Pisa, Lucca, Viareggio and Livorno are at maximum 1 hour drive away). Closer to the town are other wonderful destinations as: Levanto, on the coast, is popular in both summer and winter. There are remains of its medieval walls and castle. Le Cinque Terre, the five lands, are a group of five villages accessed by train, ferry or also popular hiking trails between the villages. Lerici and Portovenere, on the Gulf of Poets, a UNESCO World Heritage site. Sarzana is a small walled town famous for its antique shops. On the northern coast you can easily reach fishing villages (Camogli, Sestri) and vip location (Portofino, Rapallo and Santa Margherita). East of the famed five villages of the Cinque Terre is the equally compelling Gulf of Poets, the Gulf of La Spezia given a literary nickname for its attraction to some of the world's most celebrated poets who came as Percy Bysshe Shelley and Lord Byron. Dante and Petrarch spoke of the natural beauty of the gulf.

Villa del Parco is a noble villa late '800, situated in the heart of the city of La Spezia, nestled in a large park with a tree lined road of remarkable beauty. Entering in the park you can see two splendid nineteenth-century gazebos, the beautiful marble sculptures that lead to an antique bronze fountain surrounded by marble benches and trees that insulate and protect it by making it an intimate and romantic, nice shading spots where you can spend relaxing moments during your stay. The lush garden is also enriched by a majestic century-old magnolia in the highest part of the garden, where you can see the secluded and equipped swimming pool with two showers and a bathroom.

The front of the house is featured by elegant painted frames. The interior of the villa is of great charm and give a mark of unique sophistication and class. The villa has recently been furnished with taste and sought furnishings by an architect of international renown.

The villa is on three floors. From the ground floor where you find the living room guests have access to the beautiful park outside. On this floor there is a large hall, with three living rooms, a library and a dining room connected with the fully equipped kitchen. On the second and third floor you find the sleeping area with seven large bedrooms with private bathrooms and four terraces that overlook the park. The house is equipped by: internet wifi connection, air conditioning, washing machine, dishwasher, tv sat, dvd and cd player.
